The 2022 California All-State Music Education Conference is back in-person! We can't wait to see you all this upcoming February in Fresno, CA, and are so excited to provide the highest quality professional learning opportunity for music educators and your students across the state. As always, California Alliance for Jazz (CAJ), California Band Directors Association (CBDA), California Choral Directors Association (CCDA), California Music Educators Association (CMEA), and California Orchestra Directors Association (CODA), the collaborating organizations of CASMEC, have been working hard to prepare an educational and uplifting conference and All-State experience.

2020 CASMEC Professional Development Clinics include sessions on engagement strategies, assessment, inclusivity, diversifying your music program, pedagogy from fundamentals to advanced techniques, advocacy, music technology beyond COVID, band, orchestra, choir, jazz, general classroom music, world music, special learners, pedagogy, composition, music technology, improvisation, music literature, and more. The session descriptions and conference schedule will be posted soon on the CASMEC website, www.casmec.org. You will also be able to enjoy concerts by all of the 16 California All-State Ensembles, which will be performing in Fresno during the CASMEC weekend.

Pre-registration is open now through Sunday, February 13, 2022 at www.casmec.org. After that date, you will need to register onsite at the conference.

The CASMEC Team is hopeful that our 2022 Conference, filled with educational sessions and inspirational music-making, will provide you all with a safe space to refresh, rehone, and sharpen your skills and talents as an educator. We are looking forward to seeing you all this February and reconnecting!
